U.S. Coaching Staff

usaswimming.org | @USASwimming | @USASwimmingNews | #FINABudapest2022

Todd DeSorbo
U.S. Women's Head Coach
University of Virginia

DeSorbo served as an assistant coach at the Olympic Games Tokyo 2020, where he helped lead the U.S. women's team—which consisted of four current University of Virginia swimmers and a member of the program's pro group—to 18 total medals in Tokyo.

Domestically, DeSorbo led the University of Virginia women's swimming & diving program to its first NCAA title in 2021 before helping the program repeat as NCAA Champions in 2022.

He currently has five U.S. National Team women training at his program, more than any other school's student-athlete representation on the 2021-22 U.S. National Team.

Anthony Nesty
U.S. Men's Head Coach
University of Florida

Nesty's efforts as an assistant coach for the U.S. Olympic Team at the Olympic Games Tokyo 2020 helped lead his University of Florida swimmers, Bobby Finke and Kieran Smith, to three medals, including two gold.

His current training group at the University of Florida consists of five men on the U.S. National Team. The Gators won a 10th-consecutive SEC Championships title in 2022 and went on to finish third at the 2022 NCAA Division I Swimming & Diving Championships.

While the upcoming World Championships will mark his first time as head coach of a U.S. team at an international competition, he previously served as head coach for Suriname at the 2008 Olympic Games in Beijing and 2012 Olympics in London.

Competitively, Nesty represented Suriname at the 1984, 1988 and 1992 Olympic Games, where he won gold (1988) and bronze (1992) in the 100-meter butterfly. He also competed at the University of Florida and won multiple medals at the 1987 Pan American Games.

Lindsay Mintenko
National Team Managing Director

A two-time Olympic gold medal winner, Lindsay Mintenko has served as USA Swimming National Team Managing Director since 2006.

While serving as U.S. team captain at the 2000 and 2004 Olympic Games, she stood atop the podium as a member of the winning 800-meter freestyle relay team. She added a silver in the 400-meter freestyle relay in 2004.

A 10-time U.S. national champion, 10-time World Championships medalist and five-time medalist at the Pan Pacific Championships, she set numerous USC, American and world records. After five years as a USC assistant coach, she joined USA Swimming.

One of the most decorated swimmers in the legendary USC program, she was a 21-time All-American. She won five NCAA individual titles - three in the 500-yard freestyle (1996-97-99) and two in the 200-yard backstroke (1996-97) - and helped the Women of Troy to their only NCAA team championship in 1997. In her USC career, she reached the NCAA finals in all 12 individual events in which she competed. She also won six career Pac-10 titles.

Meet Notes

usaswimming.org | @USASwimming | @USASwimmingNews | #FINABudapest2022

Momentum in Budapest

In the 18 editions of the FINA World Championships, only once has a country won at least 40 medals, and that came via the U.S.' performance in Budapest in 2017.

The meet was one of the best team showings in international swimming history as the American swimmers racked in a whopping 19 gold medals, seven American records and three world records.

The Budapest momentum did not stop there, as the U.S. topped the table at the 2019 FINA World Junior Championships with 37 medals — 15 more than the next-closest nation. The charge was led by Luca URLando, Carson Foster, Claire Curzan and Torri Huske, all of whom will be in Budapest this time around.

A New Era

After the COVID-19 pandemic delayed seemingly all international meets in 2020 and 2021 by a stretch of time, new faces have emerged to the international spotlight and the U.S. roster has gotten significantly younger.

This year's team of Americans features a staggering 34 athletes (69% of the total roster) who are making their FINA World Championships debut. That number is the highest amount of first-timers on a U.S. roster since 2015 and is 14 members more than the amount of first-timers on the 2019 U.S. World Championships roster.

The team is significantly younger than the previous U.S. roster as well, boasting an average age of 21.81 years old compared to the 2019 team's average of 23.42. There are 10 members of the U.S. team who are under the age of 20 (at the start of the competition) and five youngsters, including Claire Weinstein (15) and Leah Hayes (16) will all get their first crack at a senior-level international competition.

Keeping the Streak

Multiple streaks will be on the line for Americans in Budapest. The U.S. has amounted an incredible streak in the men's 200-meter individual medley, medaling in 13-consecutive world championships. Individually, Katie Ledecky has chance to win her fifth-consecutive world title in the 800m freestyle, Lilly King has chance to win her third-consecutive world title in the 100m breaststroke and Caeleb Dressel has chance to win third-consecutive world titles in the 50m freestyle, 100m freestyle and 100m butterfly.

Records in Jeopardy

At the 2019 FINA World Championships, the U.S. contingent set two world records, four FINA World Championships records and eight American records. While this year's team is significantly younger than the 2019 U.S. team, there are still numerous records that could be in jeopardy. Hunter Armstrong blasted a new world record of 23.71 in the 50m backstroke at April's Phillips 66 International Team Trials. The competition also saw Curzan go 25.48 in the 50m butterfly, which is just .06 seconds off the world record and .01 seconds off the American record.

In total, there are 10 current American record holders and seven current world record holders on the U.S. roster. Having the FINA World Championships take place in June—compared to its normal scheduling in July—creates a sense of uncertainty when thinking about potential times swam, however that uncertainty could be another reason for records to go down in Budapest.

Pool Athlete Selection for the 2022 FINA World Championships

A maximum of 26 men and 26 women were to be selected for the 2022 FINA World Championships pool competition using the following criteria:

Priority #1: The top four finishers in the finals of the 100m and 200m freestyle and the winner of each individual Olympic event.

Priority #2: The second-place finisher in each individual Olympic event.

Priority #3: The winner in each non-Olympic event.

Priority #4: The fifth-place finisher in the 100m and 200m free.

Priority #5: The sixth-place finisher in the 100m and 200m free.

Note: This is an abbreviated version of the pool selection criteria. For the complete document, click here.

Open Water Athlete Selection for the 2022 FINA World Championships

A maximum of two men and two women in each event (5K, 10K, 25K) were to be selected to the FINA Open Water World Championships roster. U.S. open water swimmers were selected via the points-based system listed below. The points were based off results from the U.S. Open Water National Championships 10K (April 1, 2022) and the FINA Marathon Swim World Series Portugal 10K (May 28, 2022).

10K Open Water Nationals

Place	Points

2	36
3	36
4	24
5	20
6	16
7	12

Following the results of the two 10K events, the roster will go off the following criteria:

Priority 1: Two highest point totals will be selected to compete in the 5K, 10K and 25K should they approve.

Priority 2: If the swimmers with the two highest point totals Selected to the Team do not agree to swim in one or more of the above Events, the remaining Events will be filled by the Available Swimmer with the next highest point total. This process shall continue until all Events at the Championships have been filled.

Information

- Heats: Saturday, June 18
- Semifinals: Saturday, June 18
- Finals: Sunday, June 19
- 2020 Olympic champion: N/A
- 2019 world champion: Caeleb Dressel, USA, 22.35
- U.S. medals at competition since 2001: 5 (1g, 4s)

Notable U.S. Storylines

- Dressel looks to become first American to ever win back-to-back world titles in the event. Roland Schoeman (RSA; 2005 & 2007) and Cesar Cielo (BRA; 2011 & 2013) previously accomplished the feat.
- Two Americans have never medaled together in the event in FINA World Championships history.
- Dressel's 2019 gold is the lone gold the U.S. has ever recorded since the event was added to the schedule in 2001.
- Andrew's fourth-place finish in the event at the 2019 FINA World Championships was .01 away from a medal.

Information

- Heats: Sunday, June 19
- Semifinals: N/A
- Finals: Monday, June 20
- 2020 Olympic champion: Katie Ledecky, USA, 15:37.34
- 2019 world champion: Simona Quadarella, ITA, 15:40.89
- U.S. medals at competition since 2001: 8 (5g, 2s, 1b)

Notable U.S. Storylines

- Ledecky had won three-consecutive titles in the event before having to withdraw in 2019 due to illness.
- Ledecky is currently tied with Kate Ziegler (USA), Lotte Friis (DEN) and Flavia Rigamonti (SUI) for most world championships medals in the event with three. Should Ledecky medal in Budapest, she will become the most decorated 1500m freestyler in the competition's history.
- Should Grimes medal, she would join Ledecky as the only 16-year-old to ever win a Worlds medal in the women's 1500m free. Ledecky accomplished the feat in 2013.

Information

- Heats: Tuesday, June 21
- Semifinals: Tuesday, June 21
- Finals: Wednesday, June 22
- 2020 Olympic champion: Wang Shun, CHN, 1:55.00
- 2019 world champion: Daiya Seto, JPN, 1:56.14
- U.S. medals at competition since 2001: 14 (8g, 3s, 3b)

Notable U.S. Storylines

- U.S. has medaled in the men's 200m IM in 13-consecutive FINA World Championships (LCM) competitions dating back to 1991.
- Should Foster and Kalisz medal in the 400m IM on the first day of competition, they would have the chance to become just the second American duo in history to win medals in both IM events at a single world championships. Michael Phelps and Ryan Lochte accomplished the feat in 2007 when Phelps and Lochte went gold-silver, respectively, in both IM events.

Most Influential Person: "I have always looked up to Katie Ledecky. She has always been a big role model to me in the pool and out. Her work ethic and determination is something so incredible and I really admire that about her

Favorites: sports Team: Washington Capitals, Washington Football Team, Wisconsin Badgers

Favorites: race: "My favorite race in my career was my 200 backstroke at NCAA [Championships, 2021]. It was my first NCAA and it had a lot of Covid-19 precautions like no fans, no being on deck, and limited teammates being allowed at the pool, but it was still fun. I had one of my best races ever in the 200 back and when I finished and looked up at my coaches and the few teammates that were allowed there, the smiles on their faces made me so happy. I enjoyed racing in a Wisconsin Badger cap and had a great time at the meet!"

Hobbies Outside the Pool: Running, photography, learning to play guitar

Most Influential Person: "There are a few people that I look up to, and have shaped who I am as a swimmer: Michael Phelps is the reason I first joined a swim team after watching the 2008 olympics, my first swim coach Mike Wohl for teaching me to love the sport, both of my parents for teaching me accountability over my own swimming and Steve Prefontaine, for his insane work ethic and mental strength that I aspire to have."

Favorites: sports teams: The Ohio State Buckeyes, the Cleveland Browns, the Cleveland Indians and the Cleveland Cavaliers.

PERSONAL: (continued)

Most Influential Person: "Two people I admire most: My Grandfather — I look up to my grandpa Charles because his philosophy on sports and life has taught me to enjoy the ride instead of worrying about the outcome. Dana Vollmer — Dana is amazing in so many ways. She is an incredible athlete, mother, wife and inspirational speaker. In chasing her Olympic dreams, she overcame many obstacles like not making the team one year, and then coming back the next Olympics to win Gold. She won a Bronze medal at the 2016 Olympics after having given birth to her first son. She took the time to send me a text and video before my first Olympic Trials and then Olympics. When I struggled she seemed to know exactly what to say to put me at ease and remind me that all swimmers go through it. Her advice on what to do is always helpful and her concern is always genuine."

Future Professional Aspirations: Stay involved in swimming and become a coach

Parents: Son of Jeff & Kristine Julian ... Father was a U.S. National Team member, mother won a gold medal at the 1996 Olympics on the American 4x100m medley relay team

Hobbies Outside the Pool: play other sports, video games, hang out with teammates

Most Influential Person: "My dad. Both in and out of the water, he is someone I strive to be like."

Favorites: sports teams: Los Angeles Dodgers, Los Angeles Lakers

Favorites: race: "My most memorable race so far in my career was during Pac-12

Championships my freshman year in the 200 IM. It was prelims and my first rested meet on the team, I was in lane one with a few other guys on my team in the heat. I can still remember finishing the race and getting second in the heat to Andrew Seliskar, when I was expected to be (at best) fourth or fifth, and the reaction I got from both Seli and my teammates."

Hobbies Outside the Pool: "Reading, watching Netflix, playing with my dogs, being with my friends and family"

Most Influential Person: "I admire my fellow teammates in USA Swimming. I learn so much from them about how to be a better athlete and person every day I'm with them."

Favorites: race: "My favorite race in my career thus far is the 200m Butterfly at the Tokyo games. That was the first race that I felt truly happy for and proud of myself since before the pandemic began. I'll never forget the way that race made me feel and it helped me fall back in love with the sport."

Hobbies Outside the Pool: Video games, boxing, watching weightlifting/strongman/open water videos

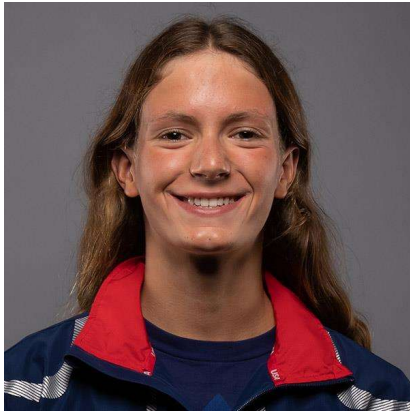

Most Influential Person: "I look up to my father very much. He came from a very hard beginning and completely started his life anew, creating a beautiful life for his children along with my wonderful mom! He also instilled the idea of hard work in me. I also admire George Foreman as well, he is living proof that you can improve in ways other than physical, and still make your mark in the world of sports."

Favorites: sports team: Las Vegas Raiders, Joe Frazier (boxing)

Favorites: performance: "My most memorable race at this point in my career was before I made the National Team in April of [2021]; in October 2020. It was in this race that I realized I could hang with the best of the best, and come relatively close to the likes of my idols like David Heron, Jordan Wilimovsky, Michael Brinegar, and my brother."

Future Professional Aspirations: Become a doctor and do cancer research.

Parents: Son of Simon J. Lamar

Nickname(s): Dog, Brownie

Hobbies Outside the Pool: Playing video games with friends, watching NBA and college basketball, watching Netflix.

Most Influential Person: "Erica Sullivan because we have undergone similar traumas. She's an inspiration and phenom in the sport, we swim the same events and it was jaw-dropping to see her win an Olympic Silver medal. LeBron James is another based on his life story and how he overcame the odds to become arguably the greatest basketball player of all time (debatable). His role in supporting mental health along with his philanthropic work has inspired me to do similar work in the future."

Affiliated non-profits or Organizations: Mental health advocate and student leader for mental health around the Harvard campus.

More: Has dual citizenship (U.S. and Spain) and speaks Spanish

Favorites: sports team: Los Angeles Lakers

Favorites: performance: "Definitely getting a bronze medal at [2016] Jr. Worlds with Michael Brinegar getting silver. We hadn't known each other super well at this point, but we have an unbreakable bond from this trip and it was a patriotic feeling to have two men on the medal stand."
