Record-Setting Performance in Budapest

The USA Swimming Team surpassed its previous world championships performance in Budapest, with a record-setting medal haul of 45 medals (17 gold) at the 2022 edition in the Hungarian capital. The total medal count established a new record for the most pool medals in the competition's history. Prior to 2022, only once had a country won at least 40 medals.

The 17 golds exceeded the combined total of the next four countries in the pool, marking the seventh time since the competition debuted in 1973 that the U.S. has earned more than 15 golds at the meet.

Although 22 members of this year's squad are competing in their first LCM world championships, previous first-time competitors such as Torri Huske and Katie Grimes paved the way for rookie success. They both earned multiple individual medals across two different disciplines in their LCM world championships debuts.

Strong Showing in Indianapolis

Of all the individual swims to occur in Fukuoka, 31 of them will be done by athletes who posted their personal best time at the Phillips 66 National Championships earlier this month in Indianapolis, Indiana.

Pool Athlete Selection for the 2023 World Aquatics Championships

A maximum of 26 men and 26 women were to be selected for the 2023 World Aquatics Championships pool competition at the 2023 Phillips 66 National Championships June 27 - July 1 in Indianapolis, Indiana.

For complete selection procedures for the pool team, please click here.

Open Water Selection for the 2023 World Aquatics Championships

A maximum of two men and two women in each event (5K, 10K, 25K) were to be selected to the World Aquatics Championships roster. U.S. open water swimmers were selected from wins at the 2023 Open Water National Championships 10K in April and the top-American finishers at the World Aquatics Open Water World Cup, in Golfo Aranci, Italy.
